Research Now plc

AGM Statement

Geoff Westmore, Chairman of Research Now plc (AIM: RNOW), the international online fieldwork and panel specialist for the market research industry, will today make the following statement at the Group's Annual General Meeting:

"Trading has continued to progress well since the Preliminary results announcement on 2 February, with a strong pick-up in activity levels from January's seasonal low point. March trading has been particularly positive.

In the five month period ending 31 March 2009 the Group's reported revenues and gross margin are expected to be ahead of the prior year by approximately 23% and 28% respectively. These results reflect the benefit of the Group's geographic spread. All of the Group's regions have achieved growth on an underlying basis.

Despite the worldwide recessionary environment, the Group remains on track to deliver profitable growth in 2009."
